

DRINK MENU

It began with the brewing of the Great Drinks. Three were given to the Elves, immortal, wisest and fairest of all beings. One to the Dwarves, hearty miners and craftsmen of the mountain halls. One to Gnomes, small, innately curious creatures whose minds require a temperate brew. And two, two drinks were gifted to the race of men, who, above all else, desired a refreshing craft. But they were, all of them, deceived, for another Drink was made. In the land of Mordor, in the fires of the kitchen, the Dark Brewer Sauron forged in secret a master Drink, to control all others. And into this Drink he poured his grapes, his chocolate and his raspberries grown to dominate all desserts. One Drink to inebriate them all.

THE ONE DRINK

??? WINE (17% ABV)

In hushed voices they speak of a drink with rich, intense fruit flavor and aromas. A precious dessert wine rounded by notes of cherry and plum, supported by a racy zing of bright raspberry. Perfumed and gently tart with luscious liquid chocolate, beguiling with dark, bitter-sweet aromas of oaky vanilla.

To learn the name of this drink (to ask for at the bar) answer the following riddle:

It cannot be seen, cannot be felt, cannot be heard, cannot be smelt. It lies behind stars and under hills, and empty holes it fills. It comes out first and follows after.
